Our story

For more than 35 years, Today's Bride has been helping engaged couples connect with trusted local wedding professionals throughout Northeast Ohio. What began as a single bridal magazine has grown into the region's leading wedding planning resource, bringing together bridal shows, a trusted online vendor directory, digital marketing, social media, email campaigns, and inspiring editorial content that helps couples confidently plan every step of their wedding.

We're more than an advertising company.

We're a connection point between couples and the businesses that make their wedding day unforgettable.

Every year, thousands of engaged couples turn to Today's Bride to discover ideas, compare local vendors, attend bridal shows, and build the team they'll trust with one of the biggest days of their lives. Because couples don't make every decision at once, they return throughout their planning journey, giving our partners repeated opportunities to be seen, remembered, and chosen.

As a locally owned, family-operated business, we've built our reputation by helping wedding professionals grow through meaningful connections—not just impressions. Every product we offer is designed with one goal in mind: helping the right couples find the right businesses at the right time.

For wedding professionals, Today's Bride isn't simply another place to be seen. It's a trusted marketing partner backed by decades of experience, a loyal audience, and a passion for supporting the local wedding industry.

★★★★★ "Tall Oaks has attended Today's Bride expos for a few years now, and they've become an integral part of our business in attracting engaged couples to our venue and spreading awareness of our offerings. Their small-business structure makes it easy to communicate with any contact you need; their personable, outgoing, and family-oriented team has done everything for us from assisting in putting up our trade show booth in a pinch, to sharing a funny email during the workday, to making sure we feel comfortable with every tiny detailed aspect of our sponsorship with them." – Tall Oaks Resort

Today's Bride Magazine

72% of engaged couples utilize wedding magazines for their planning. Our Northeast Ohio annual publication increases credibility, brand awareness, and maximizes your exposure by reaching a full year's worth of engagements.

Unlike the way readers often peruse and discard monthly subscriptions, couples tend to place our magazine on their coffee table or in their wedding binders to refer back to over the course of their planning. They dog-ear pages, add sticky notes, take notes, and share with their friends. This makes your print ad more effective and time-resistant.

FREQUENCY

Today's Bride Magazine is an annual publication that circulates for 12 months, from December through November the following year.

DISTRIBUTION

10,000 copies are distributed through 150+ wedding retail locations across Northeast Ohio, 4,000+ show attendees, and your prospects. We'll keep you stocked with complimentary copies to give as a free gift, too.

DIGITAL EDITION

Each magazine is digitally published as an interactive version on TodaysBride.com and linked to your website and online profile, expanding your exposure further.

BRIDAL SHOW SUPPLEMENTAL PRINT

Show Preview Guide

The show preview guide is a printed marketing piece that is distributed across 800+ retail locations throughout Northeast Ohio and mailed directly to the homes of 3,000+ engaged couples. It is also included in our Stuff-It Bag Program for the January show.
